Welcome to ACOOG's 87th Annual Conference

Conference Chairs

Jennifer Nichols, DO

Andrew Zink, DO

On behalf of the American College of Osteopathic Obstetricians and Gynecologists, we want to welcome you to the 87th Annual Conference. We are excited you're here! Over the past several months we have worked to design this conference for you – using your feedback and input to make it clinically relevant, timely and practical. We have a world-class faculty to present the latest in women's healthcare. We hope that you find the presentations and networking opportunities an excellent use of your valuable time.

Feel free to reach out to us (maybe use the app!) or the ACOOG Board or staff if you have any concerns, accolades or suggestions! Thank you for being a member of American College of Osteopathic Obstetricians and Gynecologists!

Handwritten signature of Andrew Zink, DO.

President's Welcome

Welcome to Sunny San Diego!

On behalf of the ACOOG Executive Board and the Continuing Medical Education Committee, I would like to welcome you to California and ACOOG's 87th Annual Conference.

By bringing in top experts with a broad diversity of experience, the Annual Meeting will give you, the attendees, the opportunity to get the latest updates in women's health care

I am excited for this meeting and I am excited for you to try out our new mobile app. The app provides you with access to a wealth of information about this conference, and ACOOG throughout the year. Please download it, log in and try it out.

Thank you for attending. Feel free to reach out to me or any other board member for any questions or concerns.

Thomas S. Dardarian, DO, FACOOG (Dist.)

About the Annual Conference

This conference has been carefully designed to meet the unique educational needs of women's health physicians and team members, offering scientific assessment of a variety of clinical topics and controversial issues that OB/GYNs face today. You'll walk away with practical information you can apply to daily practice.

Learning Objectives

Those participating in this activity will receive information that should allow them to...

- Evaluate current diagnostic and therapeutic options for common illnesses seen in women's health;
- Identify new and clinically relevant evidence-based management and treatments, using the most up-to-date clinical and scientific information;
- Assess ways to ensure individualized, patient-centered women's healthcare is consistently provided;
- Develop strategies to improve patient safety and health outcomes; and
- Collaborate with peers and colleagues on OB-GYN practice issues.

Successful Completion

Participation in the activity, completion of the electronic attestation form and postcourse evaluation are required to receive CME credit and a certificate of attendance. ACOG's app is the preferred method of completing these requirements. If you need an alternate method, please see the conference desk.

Commercial Support

ACOG extends its thanks to the following companies for providing commercial support as educational grants for this activity.

AbbVie

Lupin Pharmaceuticals

AMAG Pharmaceuticals

(list current at time of publication, see App for updates)

Accreditation & Credit

The American College of Osteopathic Obstetricians & Gynecologists is accredited by the American Osteopathic Association to award continuing medical education credits to physicians.

The AOA Council on Continuing Medical Education approves this program for up to 33 credits of AOA Category 1-A CME for The American College of Osteopathic Obstetricians & Gynecologists. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of Antidote Education Company and the American College of Osteopathic Obstetricians and Gynecologists. Antidote Education Company is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Antidote Education Company designates this live activity for a maximum of 33 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

NPs & PAs

The American Academy of Nurse Practitioners Certification Board (AANPCB) recognizes activities approved for Category 1-A credit through the American Osteopathic Association as providing advanced practice CE content hours for applicants seeking renewal through continuing education credit.

The National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants (NCCPA) recognizes activities approved for Category 1-A credit through the American Osteopathic Association as Regular Category 1 CME for national certification maintenance.

All NPs and PAs participating in this activity will receive a certificate of completion commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. ACOOG recommends that NPs & PAs check with their certification/licensing authority to confirm credit reciprocity.

About MEFACOOG

The Medical Education Foundation of ACOOG (MEFACOOG) fosters ongoing improvements in women's healthcare and supports osteopathic lifelong educational opportunities. Through donations alone, MEFACOOG helps each current and future member of ACOOG through:

- The Resident Reporter Program
- The Resident Research Forums
- Resident Poster Awards at Annual Conference
- Four endowed lectures at ACOOG CME events
- Community Service Projects

Please Donate to MEFACOOG

Your donations enable MEFACOOG to strengthen ACOOG's CME programs and be a resource to the next generation of obstetricians and gynecologists. How can you help?

Claiming CME Credit

The ACOOG App is the easiest, most efficient method of completing the requirements for claiming credit.

Deadline to Claim Credit: Friday, April 17, 2020 (Midnight)

The CLAIM CREDIT icon will appear on the app dashboard on the last day of the conference.

Claim your CME Credit!
(visible on last day of conference)

To claim credit at the end of the conference:

1. From the App dashboard, click the claim CME credit icon.
2. Enter your name and AOA number (if it does not populate) or NPI number
3. Select the sessions you attended and complete the overall course evaluation. The entire process will take about 10 minutes.
4. Your certificate will be available for print and will be e-mailed to you when you submit your credit attestation.

Credit Claiming Deadline April 17, 2020, Midnight

The credit window is open for 14 days from the close of the conference. After the date above, requests for CME will require a written request and be assessed a $50 non-refundable fee. Requests for special consideration are decided on a case-by-case basis.

Alternate Credit Attestation

The preferred method of attestation and claiming credit is using the free ACOOG app. However, if an alternate method is desired, please see the conference registration desk to access web-based evaluations. If you choose this method, you will be required to complete all evaluations and attestation items in one sitting. Please see the conference registration desk for details.

Additional CME Credit

Between 14 and 30 days after the conference, you will be e-mailed an outcomes measurement assessment. Those who complete this assessment before the deadline will earn up to 3 additional Category 1-A CME credits, per AOA guidelines, at no additional charge. This does not apply for AMA PRA credit.

Grievances

Any registrant finding evidence that the continuing medical education program presented is inappropriate with regard to facilities, materials, content, or observes any unacceptable promotion by a commercial interest in the same room as the educational activity, whether by company representative or presenter, may submit a grievance in writing to ACOOG, 201 Main Street, Suite 600, Fort Worth, TX 76102. Unresolved issues regarding this activity will require a formal written complaint to the AOA Division of CME, 142 East Ontario Street, Chicago, IL 60611.

ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY

1. Background The American College of Osteopathic Obstetricians and Gynecologists promotes an environment of respect, fairness, integrity, and inclusiveness. These values are reflected in the ACOOG Code of Professional Ethics, the Statement of Values, and the ACOOG Diversity Statement for Volunteer and Leadership Positions.

ACOOG's commitment to its values is also reflected in its Harassment-Free Workplace policy, which prohibits sexual and discriminatory harassment against ACOOG employees, whether the harassment is committed by an employee, member, volunteer, vendor, exhibitor, or other party.

This ACOOG Meetings Anti-Harassment Policy further promotes ACOOG's values by defining the expectations for all participants at any ACOOG meeting and related social events. When used in this policy, "participant" refers to anyone present at any ACOOG Meeting, including all attendees, members, speakers, staff, contractors, vendors, and exhibitors. This policy applies to all meetings hosted by ACOOG, at all venues and events, including all ancillary or unofficial social events held in conjunction with any ACOOG meeting.

2. Expected Behavior ACOOG expects all participants at every ACOOG Meeting to behave responsibly and professionally and to abide by this Anti-Harassment Policy. In addition, ACOOG expects participants to comply with the following:

Responsible alcohol consumption: At many ACOOG networking events both alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages are served. ACOOG expects participants at our events to drink alcoholic beverages responsibly. ACOOG and event staff have the right to deny service to participants for any reason, and may require a participant to leave the event.

Safety and security: Participants should alert ACOOG staff if they notice a dangerous situation or someone in distress.

Treatment of others: Participants must exercise professionalism, consideration, and respect in their speech and actions, and must refrain from demeaning, discriminatory, or harassing behavior and speech. Participants who experience or witness harassment are encouraged to report it as provided in Paragraph 5, below.

3. Unacceptable Behavior ACOOG will not tolerate harassment, including sexual harassment, by any participant at any ACOOG meeting. Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances or touching, requests for sexual favors, or other unwelcome physical, verbal, visual, or other conduct of a sexual nature. Unacceptable behaviors include, but are not limited to:

- Unwelcome and uninvited attention or contact with another participant
- Verbal or written comments, or visual images, that are sexually suggestive, or that denigrates or shows hostility or aversion toward an individual, or group of individuals, and that creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment, or that unreasonably interferes with an individual's ability to participate in an ACOOG meeting or event.

- Inappropriate, unnecessary, or irrelevant use of nudity and/or sexual images in public spaces, including presentation slides;
- Intimidating, harassing, abusive, discriminatory, derogatory or demeaning speech or actions by any participant in any ACOOG meeting, at all related events and in one-on-one communications carried out in the context of any ACOOG meeting;
- Harmful or prejudicial verbal or written comments or visual images related to gender, sexual orientation, race, religion, disability, age, appearance, or other personal characteristics
- Deliberate intimidation, stalking, or following;
 - Harassing photography or recording;
 - Sustained disruption of lectures, proceedings, or other events;
 - Physical assault (including unwelcome touch or groping)
 - Real or implied threat of physical harm
 - Real or implied threat of professional or financial damage or harm

4. Consequences of Unacceptable Behavior

Unacceptable behavior from any participant at any ACOOG meeting will not be tolerated. If a participant engages in unacceptable behavior, ACOOG may take any action that it deems appropriate, including exclusion from particular events or removal from the meeting (without refund) at which the harassment occurred. Egregious violations may be referred to the ACOOG Board of Trustees and/or may result in exclusion from future meetings.

5. Reporting Unacceptable Behavior

If you are being harassed, notice that someone else is being harassed, or have any concerns that require prompt assistance, please call ACOOG at 817-377-0421. Comments or other concerns can be sent to info@acoog.org.

PHOTOGRAPHS, VIDEO & AUDIO RECORDINGS

Participation in ACOOG meetings and activities constitutes an implied agreement by the registrant for ACOOG's use and distribution of the attendee's image or voice in photos, videos, electronic reproductions and recordings.
