Intermediate Blueprint Reading

About the Course

This course, designed as a follow up to Basic Blueprint Reading, offers a detailed analysis of blueprints. Attendees from various trades benefit from additional experience and knowledge gained in this 16-hour course. Students learn to assess plans and details, verify dimension, review plan notes, specifications, and learn how to coordinate various trades on the jobsite.

After completion of the course, students:

- Understand how to find the proper details and wall section and verify correct dimensions.
- Learn to spot conflicts and omission in the construction plan set and how to resolve inconsistencies in the plans.
- Gain confidence in reading construction blueprints for estimating and material take off and checking dimension.
- Accurately read and interpret prints for greater productivity.
- Learn to anticipate/plan the next specialty contractors' needs.

Who should attend: Students who have completed Basic Blueprint Reading or those with a basic knowledge of construction prints.
