

Do You Have a Passion for Helping People?

CASP The Council of Autism
Service Providers

Consider a Rewarding
Career in ABA

Over 1.7 million children in the United States are diagnosed with autism each year – a trend that has increased over the past several decades. The gold standard for treating individuals with autism is evidence-based Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA).

There is currently an insufficient number of well-trained ABA service providers, particularly Registered Behavior Technicians® (RBT®), and Board Certified Behavior Analysts® (BCBA®). Children currently waiting for therapy need an estimated 300,000 more RBTs and another 86,000 BCBAAs. Add in the need for adolescent and adult services and the numbers are immeasurable.

Aspiring human service professionals like YOU are needed to provide individualized, high-quality services to children and adults with autism. You can empower autistic children and adults with tools to help them reach their full potential and also help to improve the lives of their siblings and parents. This will be the most rewarding career you've ever dreamed of – with abundant possibilities for career development.

DO YOU:

- Want to make a DIFFERENCE in the world?
- Have a PASSION for teaching children?
- Like to understand human BEHAVIOR and LEARNING?
- Want a job that provides TRAINING?
- Need a good INCOME (and benefits!)?
- Want a position with rewarding CAREER PATHWAYS?

Then a career in ABA is for you!

VISIT the Behavior Analyst Certification Board website: www.bacb.com

A non-profit association of agencies serving individuals with autism spectrum disorders, CASP is dedicated to supporting our members by cultivating, sharing, and advocating for providing best practices in autism services.