Michael Wilson Leads First National Community Bank's Commitment to Calhoun With 2026 Keep It In The County Gordon County Chamber of Commerce Sponsorship

Chatsworth, Ga., January 7, 2026 – First National Community Bank (FNCB), the wholly owned subsidiary of First Chatsworth Bankshares, Inc., continues to strengthen its commitment to Gordon County through the leadership of Michael Wilson, Market President for Calhoun and Adairsville, and its 2026 sponsorship of the Gordon County Chamber of Commerce's signature Keep It In The County campaign.

Wilson, who oversees First National Community Bank's Calhoun and Adairsville markets, is a familiar and trusted presence in the local business community. With more than 15 years of experience in commercial lending and community banking, he works closely with business owners to deliver locally made decisions, customized financial solutions, and relationship-driven service.

"Michael's leadership by example embodies the community banking spirit of service and excellence found at FNCB. His leadership where he serves reflects our corporate belief in local relationships, local decision-making, and reinvesting in the communities that make up our footprint. Supporting Keep It In The County is a natural and tangible extension of that commitment," said Ryan P. Earnest, President and Chief Executive Officer of First National Community Bank.

Launched by the Gordon County Chamber of Commerce in 2009, Keep It In The County is a shop-local campaign centered on hometown spending and local loyalty. Endorsed by both small businesses and large organizations, the initiative encourages community members to support the relationships and businesses that help Gordon County grow and thrive.

As a 2026 sponsor of the campaign, First National Community Bank reinforces its belief that where people choose to bank matters—especially when that choice is local, where customers are known by name, relationships come first, and financial decisions are made by neighbors who understand the community.

"Keep It In The County means choosing to invest where you live and work. When businesses and families keep their dollars local, it strengthens our entire community. At First National Community Bank, we're committed to being accessible, responsive, and truly involved so our customers always know who they're banking with and where decisions are made," said Michael Wilson, Market President for Calhoun & Adairsville.

Wilson is deeply involved in the Gordon County community, volunteering with organizations including the Gordon County Chamber of Commerce, the City of Calhoun's Revolving Loan Advisory Commission, and the United Way of Gordon County. His commitment to Calhoun and Adairsville reflects FNCB's long-standing mission to serve communities through personal relationships and trusted local leadership.

Through experienced market leadership and continued investment in initiatives like Keep It In The County, First National Community Bank remains focused on helping local businesses, families, and communities succeed—because when it's kept in the county, it truly matters.
