Exchange Bank Announces the Hiring of Schaun Crane as Vice President – Commercial Lender for the New Braselton Branch

Braselton, GA – December 16, 2025 – Exchange Bank and John C. Childs, Jr., President and Chief Executive Officer, are pleased to announce that Schaun Crane has joined the Bank as Vice President – Commercial Banker, supporting the development and launch of Exchange Bank’s new Braselton branch, scheduled to open in Spring 2026.

Crane brings extensive commercial lending experience and a deep understanding of the North Georgia market. Throughout her career, she has built strong relationships with local business owners, builders, and community leaders. Her commitment to personalized service, responsive communication, and helping businesses grow aligns seamlessly with Exchange Bank’s community-focused mission as the Bank expands beyond its historic Milledgeville footprint.

“We are excited to welcome Schaun to the Exchange Bank family,” said John C. Childs, Jr., President & CEO. “Her leadership, expertise in commercial lending, and strong connections in the Braselton and Hall County areas will play a vital role in establishing our presence and serving the community.”

In her role, Crane will focus on supporting local businesses, developing commercial relationships, and helping introduce Exchange Bank’s relationship-driven banking approach to the Braselton community. She will work closely with Market President Tripp Conner as part of the leadership team, guiding the Bank’s entry into this growing region.

A dedicated community advocate, Crane has been actively involved in civic and business organizations across North Georgia. She is passionate about empowering local entrepreneurs and contributing to long-term economic growth.

Exchange Bank, founded in 1903, is a full-service community bank committed to exceptional customer service and strengthening the communities it serves. The Braselton branch will mark the Bank's expansion into its fourth market, continuing a tradition of local banking "Where Community Matters."
