

Citizens Community Bank Welcomes Bill Hatfield as New Commercial Loan Officer

Citizens Community Bank announces the addition of Bill Hatfield to the commercial lending team. With an extensive background in financial services, operations management, and customer relations, Hatfield is committed to helping local individuals and businesses achieve their financial goals.

Hatfield brings over two decades of professional experience, including key roles in consumer, commercial, and mortgage loan development. His background includes positions at Wachovia Bank and Equity One of Virginia, where he was recognized for exceptional growth, leadership, and client service.

A graduate of Lowndes County High School, Hatfield has strong ties to the Valdosta community. He has served as treasurer of the Kiwanis Club and is currently the mayor of Dasher, Georgia. Hatfield is also a proud U.S. Navy veteran who completed training at the U.S. Naval School of Photography in Pensacola, Florida.

Beyond his professional accomplishments, Hatfield is an avid golfer who enjoys spending time with his family.

“We are thrilled to have Bill join our team,” said Jeff Hanson, CEO/President of Citizens Community Bank. “His experience, leadership, and customer-first approach make him a tremendous asset to our lending team. Bill’s commitment to service and his deep roots in our community perfectly align with CCB’s mission of delivering exceptional financial solutions with a personal touch.”

Citizens Community Bank has locations in Valdosta, Morven, and Hahira; learn more at CCBGA.bank.