Emmett Shipman is a Fintech Strategy and Growth Senior Manager. Before joining Wolf, he worked at an early-stage fintech startup, supporting both go-to-market and fundraising activities. He also gained invaluable experience in strategy and working at the intersection of banking and fintech during his time at Alloy Labs, where he served as VP of Market Development.

With experience spanning startups and financial institutions, Emmett brings a unique perspective to Wolf and its clients. He is deeply involved with the Boston fintech ecosystem and was part of the founding team of MassChallenge Fintech, a leading corporate innovation accelerator. There, he helped drive successful partnerships across asset management, banking, insurance, and e-commerce
