

PASSION PROJECT

In leadership we are more connected to and invested in projects when we have a passion for them. Many people have come to the class without a focus on something that really drives them. This project is designed to help foster your passion and create meaningful projects that will help to support these passions.

PART 1: WHAT IS MY PASSION?

Get philosophical, go to a park, sit under a tree, go for a run, but think about what you find to be important. What world, national, local or school based problem would you like to have an impact in solving. Read a newspaper, talk to your neighbors, watch the news and take notes as you come across problems that you see in need of remedy. As you take notes, see which one sparks a fire in you. What problem makes you want to do something?

PART 2: MY PASSION PROJECT

Choose 1 of the passions from part 1. Now that you know what your passion is and who it can impact it is time to put your goals into action steps. This project will be presented via a google slide presentation and video of you explaining the project and steps.. Here you will come up with a project you would like to do in order to have a valuable impact in our school, community, state, country, or even the world.

Using your new found passion it's time to get philosophical again: go back to the park, beach, tree or run that helped you earlier and come up with a plan. Use the ideas of previous people you found in your research and decide on something you can do, build on something that exists or start from scratch. Talk to people in leadership and see what is realistic to do, suggestions on how you could execute your project and a timeline to do so.
