FAIRx
Floridians for Attainable & Innovative Rx

About FAIRx

Floridians for Attainable and Innovative Rx (FAIRx) is a physician-led and patient-focused coalition dedicated to helping insured Floridians access the life-sustaining, innovative therapies they need. We are working to raise awareness of discriminatory insurer benefit design that could keep Florida families from essential treatments.

Why do we need FAIRx?

More than 13 million Floridians live with at least one chronic disease. If all Floridians had access to the treatment they need, an estimated 82,500 lives could be saved annually, according to the Partnership to End Chronic Disease. Unfortunately, health insurers in Florida are increasingly designing their plans in order to shift larger portions of health care costs onto those with chronic diseases by increasing out-of-pocket costs for critical therapies.

How can FAIRx help?

While FAIRx hopes the state - with support from lawmakers – will continue down this promising path, we know this effort will require Florida's patient and provider groups, as well as individual patients, to speak with one voice.

Together, we want to engage in an advocacy campaign to:

- Support state policies that make insurance coverage, coinsurance and copays more transparent and equitable.
- Urge regulators and state policymakers to take action to protect all insured Floridians from out-of-pocket costs that could jeopardize their health.
- Share personal stories from patients whose out-of-pocket costs are causing hardship for them or their families.

FAIRx Campaign Partners

Accessia Health · AIDS Alliance · The AIDS Institute · ACP American College of Physicians · American Lung Association State of Lung Cancer · Epilepsy Association · Epilepsy Foundation Florida · florida CHAIN · Florida Society of Gastroenterology · Florida Osteopathic Medical Association · FPTA Florida Physical Therapy Association · Florida Society · Hemophilia Foundation of Greater Florida · Lupus and Allied Diseases Association, Inc. · Help Us Solve The Cruel Mystery LUPUS Foundation of America Florida Chapter · Florida Society of Clinical Oncology · SEA Suncoast Epilepsy Association · U.S. Pain Foundation

How can Florida physicians help?

- Join FAIRx. Visit our website to gather the facts and share the physician's perspective on the impact of high patient out-of-pocket costs.
- Help get patients involved. Tell them about the organization and urge them to share their story on the Take Action page of our website.

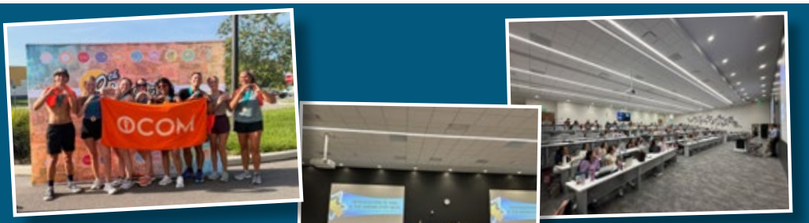
STUDENT NEWS

LECOM-Bradenton

Last Spring the SGA organized a send-off celebration for their OMS-II students as they prepared to transition into the next phase of their medical education. The event included a Publix lunch organized with administration, gift bags, and a memory book created for the class. The memory book was especially well received and served as a meaningful way for students to reflect on their time together and celebrate their accomplishments before moving forward in their training.



OCOM

OCOM FOMA District Society hosted an Anki Crash course for the incoming class this past August. It was a great turn out and engagement with the new class. OCOM also put on a big 5k team with the school's Run Club in October.

NSU-KPCOM Clearwater

On August 31st, the NSU KPCOM Clearwater FOMA Student District Society hosted Anthony Ottaviani, DO, MPH, FACOI, FCCP, FOMA past president, for a lecture on leadership in medicine.

Dr. Ottaviani shared valuable insights and experiences, giving students the opportunity to learn more about the importance of strong leadership and its role in shaping the future of healthcare

Thank you to FOMA for sponsoring lunch for students who attended the event.

Protecting Patients from Counterfeit Medicines and Illicit Pharmacies

Osteopathic physicians are trusted by their patients to provide important health information. Patients look to their physician for guidance on health and potential threats to their overall well-being. One rapidly growing threat is the proliferation of counterfeit medicines and unregulated "Canadian" pharmacies.

Interpol's Operation Pangea XVI 2025 underscored the magnitude of this issue:

- 50.4 million doses of counterfeit and unapproved medicines were seized worldwide,
- 769 suspects were arrested for selling counterfeit or unapproved medicines, and
- 123 criminal groups dismantled for selling counterfeit products.

Counterfeit versions of medicines have even been identified in developed countries like Canada, Australia, and here in the United States. Because these illegitimate substances are not produced under regulated conditions, patients can unknowingly ingest harmful or even lethal substances.

The risks for patients are real. Counterfeit antibiotics may lack the active ingredient, delaying treatment and leading to worsening illness. In more life-threatening cases, unregulated and untested pills can be unknowingly laced with lethal substances, such as fentanyl. In 2024, the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) seized more than 60 million fentanyl-laced counterfeit pills and nearly 8,000 pounds of fentanyl powder. In 2025, the DEA fentanyl seizures have represented over 232 million deadly doses. And according to Interpol, "some fake medicines have been found to contain mercury, arsenic, rat poison, or cement."

Educating patients and staff about these could be lifesaving.

Unfortunately, many patients are lured by online offers promising "Canadian" or "cheaper" medications without realizing that more than 95% of online pharmacies operate illegally. These operations often bypass U.S. pharmaceutical standards and safeguards that protect consumers, including prescriptions verified by a licensed physician, clear labeling, and transparent sourcing.

In addition to unsafe drugs, patients face the risks of identity theft and financial fraud when purchasing from unverified networks.

What can we, as physicians, do to help protect our patients? We must educate our patients to:

- Buy only from reputable pharmacies — ideally brick-and-mortar or verified online pharmacies approved through the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy (NABP) "Buy-Safely" program.
- Avoid websites or social media sellers that do not require a prescription.
- Contact your pharmacist or doctor if you have any questions, concerns, or experience unusual effects.

Counterfeit medicine remains a global public health threat. As osteopathic physicians, we can remain vigilant, help raise awareness, and guide patients to trusted sources. Safe medicine is effective medicine.

2026 FOMA & FSACOFP Virtual Seminar

September 25 - 27

The FOMA & FSACOFP 2026 Virtual Seminar, held September 25–27, brought together more than 1,200 physicians and students for a weekend of virtual continuing medical education and professional development. The three-day program featured a diverse lineup of educational sessions designed to support physicians and future physicians in expanding their knowledge and staying current on important topics in medicine.

Attendees had the opportunity to earn up to 27 hours of AOA Category 1-A CME credit, making the Virtual Seminar a valuable educational opportunity for FOMA members & non-members. The virtual format also provided the flexibility to participate from anywhere, allowing physicians and students to engage with the program while balancing their professional and personal commitments.

The success of this year's Virtual Seminar highlights FOMA's continued commitment to providing accessible, high-quality educational opportunities for physicians.
