

ITEEA AWARDS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

Highlighting Technology and Engineering Educators!

ITEEA's awards program includes a diverse portfolio of recognition opportunities to celebrate and raise awareness of the outstanding work being done by technology and engineering educators at all levels!

The deadline to apply or nominate is November 1 unless otherwise indicated.

Program Excellence Awards celebrate excellence for elementary, middle, and high school programs in any US state, territory, international region, country, or province.

Teacher Excellence Awards recognize outstanding elementary, middle, and high school teachers in any US state, territory, international region, country, or province.

Educators with seven years of both teaching experience and consecutive years of ITEEA membership who have demonstrated a high level of competence and professional activity can apply for the Distinguished Technology and Engineering Professional (DTE) Designation

Apply for the Emerging Leader (EL) Designation if you are an educator demonstrating early career competence and professionalism with three years of both teaching experience and consecutive years of ITEEA membership.

Nominate an acclaimed colleague for individual achievements through one of ITEEA's Special Recognition Awards. Review specific awards for eligibility requirements.

ITEEA's STEM School of Excellence Designation was created for schools that provide a meaningful STEM experience for students.
Deadline: December 6, 2024.

ITEEA's Councils each offer their own awards exclusively for recognition of Council members' accomplishments! Review specific awards for eligibility requirements.

ITEEA Scholarship and Citations are available to support and recognize outstanding inservice and preservice T&E Educators.

Award winners will be recognized at ITEEA's 87th Annual Conference on April 2-5, 2025 in St. Louis, MO.
