

Join Us for One or More Engineering byDesign™ (EbD™) Summer Workshops and Transform Your Teaching!

Are you looking to enhance your teaching skills and bring dynamic technology, engineering, and STEM education to your classroom? Our upcoming Engineering byDesign (EbD) summer workshops are designed to do just that! These training courses (online, in person, and asynchronous options available) will provide you with the tools, strategies, and experience needed to inspire and engage your students in the world of STEM. By participating in one or more courses, you'll gain valuable insights and practical knowledge that will elevate your teaching and enrich your students' learning experiences.
