For Your Day-to-Day Challenges as a Water Professional, AWWA Membership is the Solution.

Join AWWA

Individual Membership is for:

- ▶ Utility Employees
- ▶ Public Officials
- ▶ Public Health Professionals
- ▶ Engineers
- ▶ Scientists
- ▶ Educators
- ▶ Consultants
- ▶ Others interested in water

Water Professionals Face Greater Challenges Than Ever Before

From finding ways to fund infrastructure improvements to water quality and distribution best practices, keeping up with everything in the water sector can be overwhelming. AWWA supports members with knowledge, guidance, and a great peer network, so you don't have to tackle these challenges alone.

- ▶ Stay informed on what's next in the water sector
- ▶ Connect with water professionals
- ▶ Advance your career
- ▶ Make a difference

About AWWA

Established in 1881, the American Water Works Association is the largest nonprofit, scientific and educational association dedicated to managing and treating water, the world's most vital resource. Through membership, AWWA creates products, services, and information that help utilities with day-to-day operations, inform the public, improve public health, protect the environment, strengthen the economy and enhance our quality of life.

Stay Informed

Water professionals like you must increasingly manage water in all its stages. Stay current on water-sector trends, scientific research, and important technical developments with subscriptions to Journal AWWA, AWWA Water Science and Opflow Magazine. These journals and magazines:

- Keep you informed on the new and best practices in the water sector
- Provide hands-on guidance to improve utility operations
- Provide in-depth articles on important topics such as water treatment, quality, and supply

Find the latest news on water-sector developments at awwa.org and through AWWA Connections, a bi-weekly newsletter that features community news, colleague profiles, career tips and more.

Connect With Water Professionals

Network with peers and meet water-sector leaders at conferences across North America. Take advantage of the opportunities to share best practices and learn what others have done when they have confronted a crisis. Make a connection that could lead to your next job.

Your Local AWWA Section

AWWA Membership includes membership in your local Section and provides access to:

- Local events and conferences
- Region-specific news and information
- Ways to directly impact local water issues
- Networking opportunities in your community

AWWA WATER SCIENCE

Theory and Practice of Safe, Sustainable Water

My AWWA Membership has allowed me to meet professionals from all over the world with similar goals, and simultaneously forge lasting relationships with a dedicated group of local volunteers."

Advance Your Career

Ensure your knowledge is on par with your responsibilities. Extensive training opportunities are available, both in-person and online. Take advantage of member pricing to save up to 30% on technical training materials, books, CEU-qualified courses, benchmarking reports, and more.

When you are ready to take the next step in your career, visit AWWA's Career Center to:

- Search new job opportunities in your area
- Post your resume so potential employers can contact you
- Access career resources

Make a Difference

Share your passion about water with others. From participating in a Community Engineering Corps project to creating and updating AWWA Standards, AWWA has the right volunteer opportunity for you. There are over 250 volunteer committees to choose from. You can also impart your knowledge by speaking at a conference or contributing to a magazine article or research report.

Help shape smart policies based on sound science. The Water Utility Council and AWWA's Government Affairs Office work hard to make sure your voice is heard in legislative and regulatory matters. AWWA Sections gather feedback from members and reach out to local officials year-round.
