SPLC Navigator℠ Sustainable Procurement Assessment Platform

The Sustainable Purchasing Leadership Council (SPLC) is the leading hub for credible sustainable procurement guidance, coaching, and collaborations that enable organizations to develop meaningful, strategic sustainable procurement programs that deliver a clear consistent demand signal for more sustainable goods and services.

A uniform assessment system to measure organizations’ progress towards sustainable procurement excellence is critical to driving continued progress toward procurement’s sustainability impact. Today’s procurement organizations must be able to efficiently and effectively measure their sustainable procurement performance in alignment with their organizational sustainability goals and unique spend profiles to answer to investors, customers, and their own internal leadership when asked what their programs are accomplishing and what they need to do better. Assessment data that flags elements which support organizations’ progress toward maturity, or areas where progress tends to stall, is essential to the creation of information and support systems that evolve to meet purchaser needs.

Measuring Progress and Providing Support

The SPLC has convened a team of multi-stakeholder experts to develop a sustainable purchasing assessment platform – SPLC NavigatorSM, – that will provide annual measurement of a set of prioritized sustainable purchasing best practices, enable benchmarking to peers, and deliver suggested resources for improved performance. Platform criteria are based on SPLC’s Maturity Model, Program and Category Guidance, aligned with external sustainability frameworks and reporting schemes, and overseen by the SPLC’s Technical Advisory Committee. In addition to enabling an individual organizations’ understanding of their progress towards impact, SPLC NavigatorSM will provide benchmarking and set the stage for public reporting on the collective maturation and growth of the sustainable procurement discipline and its impact over time.
