Quarterly President's Message

Amplify CANS, AAN, AACN, FNINR calls to sustain nursing research

VISION that “all people [will] have the opportunity to achieve their best health and wellbeing.”

Access and inclusion don't just mean using accessible captioning apps, providing accessible materials at events, or choosing accessible physical spaces (though we should do all of those things, too).

Access should be done in the service of love, justice, connection, and community. Such service is liberatory and has the power to transform.
